

NURSE ARRESTED ON BOAT HERE IN POISON CASE

Mrs. Lattimer of Syracuse Apprehended on Charge of Grand Larceny.

NOT RADIO WARNING Expected Trouble and Attributes Plight to Her Father.

NEW ACCUSATIONS MADE

Women Tell of White Liquid They Were Told to Give to Mrs. Crawford.

Mrs. Alice T. Lattimer, a Syracuse nurse, whose arrest was ordered by the Syracuse Police Department after poison had been discovered in food given to her patient, Mrs. Ruth Crawford, was arrested last night when the steamship Arapahoe of the Clyde Line docked at Pier 37, Hudson River, on a warrant charging grand larceny. Detectives Lynch of the Syracuse Police Department and Cavone of the Charles street station took her to the Charles street station, where she was locked up. Detective Lynch said she would be returned to Syracuse early this morning.

The police took elaborate precautions to prevent any one talking to Mrs. Lattimer, and according to Detective Lynch she had not yet learned, when she was locked up, the accusations that have been made against her in Syracuse, that she caused Mrs. Crawford to be strapped to her bed and fed her poison in her food. When the Arapahoe swung against Pier 36 while being warped into her dock Detectives Lynch and Cavone climbed over the stern rail and boarded the vessel, arresting Mrs. Lattimer at once. Cavone took her into the offices of the pier, where she was held for two hours, after which she was taken in a taxi-cab to the Charles street station.

Warned by Wireless. Detective Lynch said Mrs. Lattimer, who had been in Daytona, Fla., since December 17, told him that just before the Arapahoe sailed from New York she received a wireless from a friend, saying, "Trouble, watch out." She told the detective she thought her father, Dr. William D. Toward, of Syracuse, was trying to make trouble for her.

Despatches from Syracuse last night said the straps with which Mrs. Crawford was kept fastened to her bed have been taken to the office of District Attorney Frank P. Malpas, who will use them as evidence in presenting the case to the Grand Jury. The police said they have evidence showing Mrs. Crawford was kept in bed against the orders of her two physicians, Drs. A. C. Abbott and W. S. Newell. They have also obtained statements from Mrs. Lattimer's son and Mrs. Luella Shoemaker, nurses, who were left in charge by Mrs. Lattimer when she went to Florida.

Described as "Raving Crazy." Mrs. Shoemaker says Mrs. Crawford tried to make out that Mrs. Crawford was insane. Mrs. Crawford often begged her for food, but she had been forbidden to give it to her. Mrs. Lattimer, she told of witnessing the legal papers when Mrs. Crawford deeded over her property to Mrs. Lattimer, but did not know the nature of the documents. Mrs. Lattimer told her that at times Mrs. Crawford was "raving crazy" and that it was necessary to strap her in bed.

"She gave me a bottle containing some white liquid," Mrs. Shoemaker's statement continued, "with instructions to give her a dose of it in water if she became unruly. She told me to give her a second dose if one did not quiet her and that the second one surely would." In a letter to Mrs. Shoemaker from Florida Mrs. Lattimer said she had noticed Mrs. Shoemaker "had not had to call Undertaker Drinkwine as yet—the sooner the better." She says she was instructed by Mrs. Lattimer "never to let any of Mrs. Crawford's relatives see her until she was dead and laid out in the little church in Warner, N. Y."

FLOOD OF MESSAGES CHEERS UP CARUSO

Tenor Spends 48th Birthday Quietly.

Hundreds of congratulatory telegrams and cablegrams reached Enrico Caruso in his sick room in the Hotel Vanderbilt yesterday. It was the tenor's forty-eighth birthday, and he passed it very quietly, receiving no callers. While his physicians were well satisfied with his condition, they were unwilling that he should be subjected to any excitement.

Among the messages which reached Mr. Caruso was a message from his brother, Giovanni, who is en route to New York aboard the steamship Carota. Flowers from many friends crowded the Caruso apartment.

Bruno Zinato, Mr. Caruso's secretary, said the tenor was deeply appreciative of the overwhelming evidences of friendship he received, and regretted greatly that he could receive no one. After a comfortable sleep Saturday night Mr. Caruso breakfasted heartily, and at luncheon also. A bulletin issued by his physicians yesterday noon stated: "Improvement shown as usual. Fever lower, but has not yet subsided. The course of the disease is progressing favorably."

MRS. WALLACH DROPS HER ALIENATION SUIT

She Demanded $10,000 From Her Father-in-Law.

Justice Platt of the Supreme Court in White Plains signed an order Saturday discontinuing the actions of Mrs. Janet A. Wallach against her father-in-law, Joseph G. Wallach, laundryman, for alleged alienation of her husband's affections and her suit against J. Wallach for the conversion of about $10,000 worth of furniture and other property. The order does not mention any terms in connection with the settlement. The plaintiff was represented by Wales P. Severance of 256 Broadway. Prince & Nathan of 19 Cedar street appeared for the defendant.

SHERIFF TELLS Foe OF BUS SPOONER TO RIDE IN SUBWAY

Must Be Old Crab, Knott Opines, and Advises Pro Bono to Watch the Birds and Develop a Spirit of Human Sympathy.

The recent statement of the Fifth Avenue Coach Company that the company did not object to human typhoid doves billing and cooing on top of the Fifth Avenue buses has brought a shriek of agony from some one who has written a letter, signed Pro Bono Publico, to Sheriff Knott, saying the spooning is a terrible thing and imploring the Sheriff for goodness sake to do something about it. "I have read in the daily papers that the Fifth Avenue Coach Company, which operates buses in Fifth avenue, refuses to heed the objection made about the spooning which is indulged in on top of their vehicles. As a citizen I wish to protest a continuance of this public nuisance. If these young people must spoon let them do so in the privacy of their own homes. It seems this is a matter meeting public attention. There is no hope the police will do anything about it, for the traffic police on Fifth avenue are witnesses to the public spooning that goes on atop the buses, but take no action. Therefore I write to you as Sheriff and ask that you appoint some deputies to take this unsightly matter in hand and see that it is remedied."

The Sheriff at once sat him down and wrote a reply to Pro Bono Publico, in which he advised a persons who are against spooning on the buses to ride on the subway. His letter said: "Dear Pro Bono Publico: "Have you no sentiment or human sympathy? Have you never been out-

LA GUARDIA TURNS ON SOCIALIST HISSEES Makes Their Own Intolerance Point Against Them.

The hisses that greeted the anti-Socialist views of Florentio H. La Guardia, Democratic President, as he debated the question of socialism with Seymour Steadman, recently Socialist candidate for Vice-President, at a meeting yesterday in Hunts Point Palace, were used by him as an argument to strengthen his case.

"Your usefulness ceases when you consider everything advanced from outside your organization wrong and everything from inside of your ranks as correct," he told the audience. He was interrupted several times and twice the hissing became so strong County Judge Louis D. Gibbs, who presided, rapped for order and demanded respect for the speaker. Mr. La Guardia said it would be unwise to believe the present system is ideal. But changes for the better are being made constantly, he said, and in view of these drastic changes to try out unproved theories is unadvisable.

Mr. Steadman outlined Socialist theories and endeavored to show that increased happiness generally would follow their adoption. His theory, he said, was received with applause. "This country, because of its economic independence, must lead the world in the adoption of the Socialist principles," he affirmed. The meeting was under the auspices of the Bronx County Socialist organization.

WOMAN ARRESTED SAYS SHE'S SIMON AID Held on Narcotic Charge, as Is a Companion.

The assertion of Miss Marie Wright, 31, of 21 West Sixty-fourth street, that she was working for Dr. Carleton Simon, Deputy Police Commissioner in charge of the narcotic squad, did not help her when she was arraigned yesterday in the Women's Court on a charge of violating the narcotic laws. Dr. Simon, when arraigned, was accompanied by a woman in his campaign against drug addiction except the regular women members of the police force. Miss Wright and Miss Marie Raymond were arrested Saturday night in Miss Wright's apartment by Detectives Levine and Sheehan of Inspector Boettcher's staff. They said they were graduate nurses. According to the detectives, the two women rushed through the apartment and threw a quantity of cocaine into the sink as the detectives smashed their way in. Magistrate Rosenblatt held them in $500 bail each for an examination.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL RUN DOWN BY AUTOMOBILE Car Takes Victim of Accident to Roosevelt Hospital.

Miss Ella Mansfield, 19, of 39 Gramercy Park, a student in the Washington Irving High School, was struck by an automobile last night as she was crossing 14th street at Broadway. She was carried to the Roosevelt Hospital, where surgeons said she had suffered concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. Witnesses to the accident said that Miss Mansfield was walking north on Broadway with an umbrella lowered to protect her face from the cold rain, and walked directly into the path of Campbell's automobile, which was turning east into 14th street. Campbell said he did not see her in time to stop the car.

CITY MORTGAGES IN NEW HOUSING PLAN

Bronx Commissioner to Propose New Law.

William J. Flynn, Commissioner of Public Works of the Bronx, made public yesterday his suggestions for a law which he will ask the Legislature to enact empowering the city or State to make and sell first mortgages on real estate in the form of building and permanent loans for the purpose of encouraging the erection of dwellings.

The loans under Mr. Flynn's plan would be made for dwelling construction exclusively. The loans would represent 55 per cent of the actual cost of construction but 5 per cent interest guaranteed by the city or the State and would be exempt from State income tax. The term of the loans would be ten years, and the mortgages would be amortized at the rate of 5 per cent a year until the loan to 55 per cent of the original mortgage.

TO DISCUSS COAL SITUATION.

The coal situation will be discussed at a regional meeting of the New York State Coal Merchants' Association on Thursday at the Hotel Pennsylvania. There will be two sessions, and an informal dinner at which former Gov. Alfred E. Smith will be one of the speakers. The evening session will discuss the coal problem and coal problems will be made by Stanley M. Hough, traffic controller for the National Retail Coal Merchants' Association; Theodore S. Trimmer, of Williams Perrell & Son; M. H. Clement of the Coal Merchants' Mutual Insurance Company, and Roderick Stephens of the Stephens Fuel Company.

HERDED IN BAGGAGE ROOM

Surgeon-General Says Quarantine, Not Ellis Island, Is Barrier to Plagues.

Doctors and nurses of the Health Department had a busy Sunday yesterday. A total of 2,309 immigrants entering the city from Ellis Island, Philadelphia and Boston were examined and seventy-seven were detained as possible typhus carriers. This is the largest number examined since the department began its campaign to keep European epidemic spreaders out of this country. At the Liberty of the Atlantic ferry more than 1,000 were inspected. The immigrants were herded into the baggage room, where inspectors searched them for evidence of possible typhus. Surgeon-General Cummings of the Public Health Service issued a statement in which he said: "Much confusion has resulted from the statements in newspaper interviews that the Liberty of the Atlantic is a quarantine station for the exclusion of typhus and other quarantinable diseases rests solely upon the quarantine authorities. As a matter of fact, the Liberty of the Atlantic is a delousing facility provided at Ellis Island, but since the prevention of the introduction of typhus relates to returning citizens as well as to aliens, the quarantine station is the one place where effective preventive measures can be carried out."

KEATS SPEED IS DINNER GUEST OF 'HERALD' STAFF Silver Service Presented to Departing Managing Editor.

Keats Speed, managing editor of the Evening Telegram, and until recently managing editor of THE NEW YORK HERALD, was the guest of honor at a dinner given him by the editorial staff of THE NEW YORK HERALD at the New York Press Club Saturday night. The entertainment was given by Miss Irene Franklin and her husband, Burton Green, among the best known of vaudeville's headliners, with songs of their own composition. Miss Franklin's singing of "Red Head" one of her old time popular numbers, was greeted with applause, which approached the tumultuous. Samuel A. Wood, the oldest member of THE NEW YORK HERALD staff, in point of continuous service, was toastmaster. Ervin Wardman, vice-president of THE SUN-HERALD Corporation; Charles M. Lincoln, the new managing editor of THE NEW YORK HERALD, and other speakers, told Mr. Speed something of the esteem and affection felt for him by the men who have worked with him, and their regret at his departure from the staff of THE HERALD. Mr. Wardman presented to Mr. Speed a silver tea service on behalf of his fellow workers.

BOYS CLUB PARTY FOR THE HIPPODROME

Stars of Stage and Screen to Entertain.

A big party has been arranged for the Boys' Club of New York at the Hippodrome for March 13, through the courtesy of Charles B. Dillingham. The club is an organization of juveniles and adults, conducted entirely for the benefit of the former, and has an eight story clubhouse at 161 Avenue A. There are 5,000 seats at the Hippodrome, and there are fully that number of youngsters in the club. The special care with which the party has been planned is indicated by those who have been selected as just the proper ones to keep youthful interest at top notch. Ben All Haggis has arranged tables. Charles Hannon Towne's "A Frolic of Youth," will be presented by a cast which includes Lillian Gish, Holbrook Blinn, Laurette Taylor, Frank Borzage and others. Margaret Severn of the Greenwich Players will appear in a Benda mask dance; Ruth Draper will give a monologue and Claire Briggs, cartoonist, who knows boys thoroughly, will appear in person. Miss Mae Murray is one on the bill. The officers of the club, all big men and very much interested in the party, are Charles H. Sabin, president; W. Averett Harriman, William W. Williams and Allan McCullough, vice-presidents; Elizahelet M. Potter, treasurer, and Henry Stanford Brooks, secretary.

5 MILES OF BOX CARS FILLED WITH REFUGEES

Poland in Most Urgent Need of Help.

In an appeal for the European Relief Fund sent out yesterday by the American Red Cross it was stated that in Poland alone there are five miles of box cars filled with women and children seeking refuge from the cold and the majority of them with not enough rags to cover their bodies. The bulletin said further: "Central Europe needs at least 500,000 layettes at the earliest possible moment if that many undernourished babies are to survive the bitter winter weather. Budapest could use a trainload of layettes. In many places the newly born babies are still being wrapped in newspapers."

With this pitiful picture of conditions in the famine and disease swept parts of Central Europe before them the volunteer women workers of the Red Cross throughout the country will redouble their efforts to-day to increase their output of made over garments and layettes for shipment overseas. The foregoing descriptions of the need for warm clothing of every sort in middle Europe, taken from cables reports received from Red Cross workers in the afflicted countries, were embodied in the appeals for increased garment production sent out to the country's 3,659 Red Cross chapters.

DOUBLE FUNERAL FOR NAVY AVIATORS TO-DAY

Services This Morning at Rockaway Station.

Double military funeral services will be held this morning at the Rockaway Point Naval Air Station for Lieut. Harold T. Stevens and Chief Machinist's Mate Eugene Lindsay, the aviators who were killed Saturday afternoon when the flying boat in which they were riding fell into an air pocket, went into a tail spin and dropped to the ground. The Rev. Father John J. Brady, rector of the Roman Catholic Church of St. Camille at Rockaway Beach, will officiate at the services. The body of Lieut. Stevens will be removed to the home of his parents, in Mount Vernon, N. Y. The body of Machinist's Mate Lindsay will be shipped to his home in San Francisco, if such instructions come from his relatives.

LAST DAY---February Furniture Sale

It is Not Wise to Hoard Money

but it is wise to lay it up "for a rainy day" without becoming miserly. Have you ever read George Eliot's lovely story of Silas Marner, the linen weaver, who buried his earnings under the loose bricks of his hearth stone, and the wonderful miracle that was wrought out thereby in his pitiful, overwhelming sorrow, when all his savings vanished overnight?

To squander money unthinkingly because one has so much that it "makes no difference," as they say, or, knowing many things, they do not know enough to take care of what they have, is deplorable. To do our best should be our daily study. (Signed) John Wanamaker
